OCT. 27-29: UD STUDENTS GO 'INTO THE STREETS' FOR SERVICE

This weekend more than 500 University of Dayton students, faculty and staff will participate in "Into the Streets," part of a national program that promotes a weekend of service.

"The basic goal is to get students involved in service, but the hope is that they will continue in service after the event, making it a lasting and enduring part of their lives," said sophomore student Kathleen Winter.

The events of the weekend will include:

Friday, Oct. 27

- 2-6 p.m. Volunteers will paint a daycare for kids with cerebral palsy at United Rehab Services, 4710 Old Troy Pike.
- 3-6 p.m. Students will organize and clean St. Francis Thrift Store, 2824 Wilmington Pike.
- 4:30-10 p.m. Volunteers will lead small children and families through an "Enchanted Forest" at Aullwood Audubon Center and Farm, 9101 Frederick Pike.

Saturday, Oct. 28

- 7-11:30 a.m. Students will check in walkers, work concessions, etc. for the Breast Cancer Walk, starting and ending at Fifth/Third Field.
- 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Volunteers will work with Habitat for Humanity at its building site at 4615 Dayview Ave.
- 10 a.m.-noon Students will perform various tasks at the Ronald McDonald House, 555 Valley St.
- 11 a.m.-2 p.m. Volunteers will trick-or-treat for canned goods in Oakwood for the St. Vincent DePaul Club. Their route will include Patterson Road, Far Hills Avenue, Shroyer Road and numerous side streets.
- 4:30-10 p.m. Students will lead small children and families through an "Enchanted Forest" at Aullwood Audubon Center and Farm, 9101 Frederick Pike.

Sunday, Oct. 29

- 12:30-6 p.m. Volunteers will husk corn and press apple cider at Carriage Hill Metropark, 7800 Shull Road.
